Department of Education Fiscal 2024 Budget Snapshot

DOE Financial Plan Overview

The Department of Education’s (DOE or the Department) Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget totals $30.7 billion, or approximately 31 percent of the City’s total $102.7 billion budget for the upcoming fiscal year, the largest area of spending in the City’s budget. DOE serves approximately 1 million students across 1,610 public schools, 271 Charter Schools, and 1,889 early childhood centers. DOE has the largest headcount of any City agency, with a headcount of 139,184, a majority of which are pedagogical or teaching positions.

DOE’s Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget is $295.3 million less than its Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget. This decrease is reflective of a combination of one-time funding in the Adopted Budget as well as Council supported initiatives. Compared to previous Preliminary Budgets, DOE’s new needs for Fiscal 2024 are modest, totaling just $1 million, which contrasts with the Department’s ambitious Program to Eliminate the Gap (PEG). The PEG program seeks to align school budgets and teacher headcount with decreased enrollment, while also finding efficiencies within the agency, such as reducing spending for DOE central operations and vacancy reductions. PEGs in the Financial Plan total $22 million in Fiscal 2023, growing steadily to $41.8 million in Fiscal 2024 and to $45.2 million in Fiscal 2026.

DOE’s Fiscal 2024 budget maintains 100 percent Fair Student Funding (FSF) for all schools. The Preliminary Budget does not take into account the projected increase in State Foundation Aid, which was $561.8 million in the Governor’s proposal. The Enacted State Budget should reflect an increase of approximately the same amount. The Preliminary Budget also does not reflect the impact of reduced enrollment of City schools on Foundation Aid, which is part of the calculation. The Council expects the Executive Budget to reflect these adjustments, after the passage of the State Budget.

DOE’s budget sees a decline of $23 million in federal funding from Fiscal 2023 to Fiscal 2024 due to an expected drop in COVID-19 federal relief funding. The Federal Covid and Stimulus Funding and the Budget Issues and Concerns section of this report details the makeup and distribution of federal stimulus funding and identifies the programmatic impact of the drop in funding.

Financial Plan Projections

After declining from the Fiscal 2023 level of $31.2 billion, DOE’s budget grows in each year of the Financial Plan period, reaching $31.2 billion again in Fiscal 2027. The main reason for the decrease and slow growth across the plan years is the inclusion of federal Covid stimulus funding in the early years of the plan. These federal funds expire by Fiscal 2025. In order to provide a similar level of service the City steadily replaces the expiring federal funds with city tax levy (CTL). The city-funded portion of DOE’s budget is projected to increase steadily in the outyears – reaching $16.1 billion in Fiscal 2027 – while State funding is projected to remain relatively unchanged across the plan period.

The decline in federal funding primarily affects the DOE’s Other Than Personal Services (OTPS), which totals $12.9 billion in the current fiscal year, and declines to $12 billion in Fiscal 2024. The Personal Services (PS) budget for the Department grows across the Financial Plan, totaling $18.2 billion in the current fiscal year, and increasing to $18.7 billion in Fiscal 2024. The primary driver of the growth in DOE’s PS costs are fringe benefits, gross pay and a $10.5 million set aside for a new student transportation program.

DOE’s Fiscal 2023 budget in the 2024 Financial Plan is $215.3 million more than the FY23 Adopted budget (See Appendix A). The Financial Plan includes $1.9 million in new needs for the Neighborhood Rat Reduction program in the current fiscal year, baselined at $1 million through Fiscal 2027. It also includes an additional $268 million of other adjustments in Fiscal 2023 and $78 million in Fiscal 2024. This increase to DOE’s Fiscal 2023 budget is partially offset by $22 million in agency PEG savings. The Mayor’s Program to Eliminate the Gap includes $22 million in savings in Fiscal 2023 growing to $45.6 million in Fiscal 2027.

*The difference of Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget compared to Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget.

DOE Financial Plan Summary

The DOE’s Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget totals $30.7 billion, which accounts for 31 percent of the City’s total Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget of $102.7 billion. DOE’s Fiscal 2024 budget is $295 million less than its Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget comprised of a decrease of $572 million in Other Than Personal Services (OTPS), which is partially offset by $276M increase in Personal Services (PS).

Significant reductions in the DOE budget between its Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget and Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget occur in General Education Instruction and School Leadership, OTPS. Funding in this area declines by $81 million due to a combination of one-time City Council funding in the Adopted Budget ($27.8 million), general reductions in general education equipment ($30 million), supplies and materials ($14.4 million), as well as a decrease in funding for the Office of Community Schools ($9 million).

The DOE's expense budget is organized by unit of appropriation (U/A), each of which represents a function of the Department as seen in the table below. A unit of appropriation is the level of DOE's budget that the Council approves at budget adoption. The following Financial Summary disaggregates DOE's budget by U/A, PS/OTPS, and revenue source

Changes by U/A

The areas of the DOE's budget, which had the most notable changes in Fiscal 2024 include Categorical Programs PS & OTPS, Pupil Transportation OTPS, School Facilities OTPS, School Safety, Charter Schools, and General Education Instruction & School Leadership OTPS. These areas of the DOE budget are an aggregate $663.9 million less in Fiscal 2024 than in the Department's Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget. Much of this decrease was offset by increases in other areas of DOE's budget, including: Universal Pre-K PS & OTPS, School Transportation PS, School Facilities PS, Energy and Leases PS, and Fringe Benefits PS.

- Categorical Programs PS & OTPS. The Department's Fiscal 2024 budget for Categorical Programs PS and OTPS is nearly $400 million less than in the Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget, a 15 percent reduction. The OTPS reduction is primarily the result of a $118.4 million decline in funding for other services and charges, and a $118.3 million decline in funding for supplies and materials.
- General Education Instruction PS & OTPS. The Financial Plan includes a nearly 11 percent decrease ($81.3 million) in the OTPS budget for General Education Instruction as compared to the DOE's Adopted Fiscal 2023 budget. This reduction is the net of the following reductions: $3.8 million for Other Services & Charges, $31 million for Property & Equipment, $42 million for Supplies & Materials, $5 million for contractual services. The General Education Instruction and School Leadership PS budget increased by $31 million.
- Schools Facilities OTPS & PS. The Fiscal 2024 budget for School Facilities is $56 million less (6 percent) than in the Adopted Fiscal 2023 Budget. The difference is primarily the result of a $57.0 million decrease in the budget for Supplies and Materials.
- Early Childhood Programs PS & OTPS. The Fiscal 2024 budget for Early Childhood Programs in the Financial Plan is $41.5 million less than the Fiscal 2023 budget at Adoption ($3.5 million less for OTPS and $38 million less for PS). The elimination of 20 vacant positions (as part of the citywide vacancy reduction plan), reduces planned expenditures for full-time salaried civilians by $1.5 million and for full-time salaried pedagogical employees by $36.5 million. The Preliminary Budget also includes a reduction in Contractual Services - Professional Services $479,000 and Contractual Services - Social Services for $2.3 million. The other reductions stem from Other Services & Charges of $50,000, Property & Equipment of $81,200 and Supplies & Materials of $579,000.

- Fringe Benefits. The Preliminary Financial Plan includes $4.3 billion for fringe benefits in Fiscal 2024, a $442.2 million increase (11.4 percent) from the Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget. The change is the result of a $453 increase in the health insurance budget partially offset by a $5.3 million reduction in FICA and a $6.4 million decrease in Salaries, Wages and Benefits (SWB).
- Charter Schools. The Fiscal 2024 budget for Charter School is $65 million (2.2 percent) less than the Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget. For charter schools within the General Education Charter Schools section. The budget for Fiscal 2024 is $2.5 billion and increasing to $2.6 billion in each of the outyears.
- Energy and Leases OTPS. The Fiscal 2024 budget for Energy and Leases OTPS is $18 million (2.8 percent) greater than in the Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget. The increased projection is due to the rising energy prices.
- School Safety OTPS. The January Plan includes a budget of $359.0 million for School Safety OTPS expenses, $30.5 million (7.8 percent) less than in the Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget.
- Pupil Transportation PS & OTPS. The Fiscal 2024 budget for pupil transportation is $1.6 billion, $65.5 million (4.0 percent) less than the Fiscal 2023 budget at Adoption .
- Non-Public Schools OTPS. The Fiscal 2024 budget for non-public schools OTP in the January Plan is $88.5 million a decrease of $26.9 million (23.3 percent)

Revenue Sources

The DOE's $30.7 billion Fiscal 2024 budget is primarily funded with city-funds ($14.0 billion, or 45.6 percent). State funding makes up $12.7 billion or 41.4 percent of the DOE's funding, while federal funds comprise 12.5 percent ($3.8 billion) of the Department's Fiscal 2024 budget. Significant revenue changes since Adoption include:

- City Funding. The DOE's Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget includes $14.0 billion in City funding, approximately 45.7 percent of the Departments' total funding. The Department's Fiscal 2024 budget includes $487.6 million less City funding than in the Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget.
- State Funding. The DOE's Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget is financed with $12.7 billion of State funds which is about 2 percent greater than State funding in the Adopted Plan. State funding finances 41.4 percent of the DOE's Fiscal 2024 budget. State funding in Fiscal 2024 is primarily comprised of $9.14 billion of Foundation Aid, which is $250 million greater than the Fiscal 2023 amount. This increase includes $94 million of additional funding for Citywide Special Education, a $28 million increase in Special Education Instructional Support, and a $270.4 million increase in Fringe benefits. These increases are partially offset by a $171 million decrease in State funding for General Education Instruction.
- Federal-Other Funding. The January Plan includes $3.8 billion of federal funding in the DOE's Fiscal 2024 budget. This is $23.4 million (less than one percent) decrease from the Fiscal 2023 Adopted Plan. This decrease is the result of the continued reduction in available federal stimulus dollars from the various Covid-relief packages authorized by Congress. The DOE's Fiscal 2024 budget includes $241 million less funding from the Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriations (CRRSA) and $184.5 million less from the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) for categorical programs in K-8 schools. These decreases are partially offset by the recognition of $396.4 million in ARPA funds for Elementary and Secondary School Facilities and a $5.6 million increase in ARPA funds for Universal Pre-K.

Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget Changes

The Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Plan increases DOE's Fiscal 2024 budget by a net of $295 million compared to the November Plan for Fiscal 2023. The Preliminary Plan includes new needs of $1.9 million in Fiscal 2023 and $1.1 million for Fiscal 2024, and $268.5 million of other adjustments to Fiscal 2024. However, this increase to DOE's Fiscal 2024 budget is partially offset by $22 million in agency PEGs. The DOE's PEG in the January Plan totals $148 million from Fiscal 2023 to Fiscal 2027. More information on these changes is located in a later section of the report.

The section below discusses significant new needs, savings, and other adjustments made in the Preliminary Plan. Appendix A of this report lists all budget actions since the Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget.

Program to Eliminate the Gap.

- Vacancy Reduction. The DOE's Preliminary Plan includes a PEG eliminating vacant positions headcount in Fiscal 2024 by 390 positions, baselined through the outyears. The Administration maintains that these headcount reductions are solely due to vacancies and historic attrition. Much of the savings are part of the Mayor's Vacancy Reduction Plan that identified unfilled positions throughout the agencies. The vacancy reduction reduces DOE expenditures by $12.4 million in Fiscal 2023 and $24.9 million in each of the outyears.
- School Safety Savings. The Plan includes savings achieved by reducing School Safety Agent vacancies. The November Plan included $22.2 million of savings in Fiscal 2023 from accruals in Fiscal 2023 and $12.2 million in Fiscal 2024. In the Preliminary Plan 282 vacant school safety positions were eliminated in Fiscal 2023 and the outyears for a savings of $6.5 million in Fiscal 2023, $10.4 million in Fiscal 2024 and $13.0 million in each year from Fiscal 2025 through Fiscal 2027. School safety agents are civilian positions and not exempt from the vacancy reduction plan like uniformed officers. The NYPD manages school safety agents and their headcount resides with the DOE budget. DOE has an agreement with NYPD and pays the cost of the division through an intra-city transfer. In addition to the savings from vacancies the DOE is assuming savings from related fringe of $3.2 million in Fiscal 2023, increasing to Fiscal $7.7 million by Fiscal 2027.

New Needs

Neighborhood Rat Reduction Program. DOE's budget includes one new need in the Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Plan. As part of the mayor's initiative to reduce the vermin infestation in New York, in Fiscal 2023 the DOE was provide $2.0 million in Fiscal 2023 and $1.1 million in Fiscal 2024, with $903,000 baselined in the outyears of the Plan.

Other Adjustments

The Financial Plan includes Other Adjustment of $268.5 million in Fiscal 2023. The Plan includes an additional $78.1 million in Fiscal 2024 in DOE's budget, while in Fiscals 2025 through 2027 Other Adjustments total an additional $1.9 million annually.

- Fiscal 2022 Stimulus Roll. The Financial Plan includes an additional $220 million of federal funding in Fiscal 2023 and $80 million in Fiscal 2024 to hold schools harmless from the funding decreased related to mid-year enrollment declines.

- Workforce Enhancement. The January Plan includes a decrease of $2.4 million for workforce enhancement. These funds will add to the contractual services for general instruction and school leadership.
- Heat, Light and Power. The January Plan includes an additional $23 million for heat, light and power.
- Heating Fuel Adjustment. The Plan includes an additional $27 million in the current year for heating fuel.
- Collective Bargaining. The Plan includes an additional $549,000 of baselined City funding in Fiscal 2023 and the outyears. This adjustment includes $504,000 for school facility workers of a skilled trade, and $47,000 for the fringe benefits for active employees.

Headcount

DOE’s PS spending accounts for 61 percent, or $18.7 billion, of its Fiscal 2024 budget. DOE’s PS budget for Fiscal 2024 in the Preliminary Plan is $277 million greater than its Fiscal 2023 Adopted Budget. This is a typical increase as PS costs tend to increase year over year. Pedagogical employees make up the greatest portion of DOE’s headcount, working in its 1,603 schools. In October 2022, DOE had 101,381 full-time and 6,220 full-time equivalent school-based staff for a total headcount of 107,601. School-based staff make up 77 percent of DOE’s Fiscal 2023 budgeted headcount for full-time and full-time equivalent (FTE) staff of 140,004. The Department’s Fiscal 2024 budgeted headcount is 139,184, a decrease of 1,180 positions from Adopted Fiscal 2023. The Fiscal 2024 full-time pedagogical headcount is 126,075, which is 817 less than the Adopted Fiscal 2023 headcount. This is an increase of 130 full-time pedagogical positions offset by a decrease of 947 in full-time pedagogical headcount in 3K for Fiscal 2024.

Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Mayor’s Management Report

The Preliminary Mayor's Management Report (PMMR), which is mandated by the City Charter, serves as a public account of the performance of City agencies, measuring whether they are delivering services efficiently, effectively and expeditiously. The Preliminary Mayor’s Management Report (PMMR) provides an early update of how the City is performing in the first four months of the current and preceding fiscal years, in addition to three previous full fiscal years. Some of the critical indicators in the PMMR for DOE include:

- Public school enrollment continues to decline, from 1.1 million in Fiscal 2021 to 1.04 million for the first four months of Fiscal 2023, which is a decrease of 88,000 in enrollment. The average daily attendance rate is 90.6 percent for Fiscal 2023, up from 89.5 percent in Fiscal 2022.

- The PMMR reports that the number of students enrolled as English Language Learners was 149,000 in Fiscal 2022, an increase of 7,000 from Fiscal 2021. The report does not contain details for the last four months of Fiscal 2022, which might show a larger increase due to the enrollment of school-age asylum seekers who began arriving in the City in the spring of 2022.
- The PMMR reports a preliminary unaudited enrollment of 281,671 students receiving special education services in the last four months of Fiscal 2022, which is a decline of approximately 13,952 students from Fiscal 2021. At the same time, the report shows that special education enrollment in public schools declined by 4.7 percent from 217,239 in Fiscal 2021 to 207,035 in Fiscal 2022, while enrollment in non-public special education services increased during the same years from 52,581 in Fiscal 2021 to 55,646 in Fiscal 2022, which is an increase of 5.8 percent.
- The PMMR now reports on pupil transportation provided for all eligible New York City students in public, charter, and non-public schools. Because this is a new indicator the data reported on in the PMMR is only for Fiscal 2022. The combined average number of students that get “stop-to-school” and “curb-to-school” is approximately 128,000.
- The PMMR reports a sharp increase in major felonies in schools from 85 in Fiscal 2021 to 346 in Fiscal 2022, nearing the numbers reported pre-pandemic. Non-criminal incidents increased from 926 to 1,619. Other incidents increased to nearly 6,000 in Fiscal 2022 exceeding the pre-pandemic level.

Budget Issues & Concerns

While the Preliminary Plan includes additional funding in Fiscal 2024 in various area of DOE’s budget, it fails to appropriately budget for several ongoing and developing issues facing the Department. The budget does not include additional funding for the ever-growing cost of Carter cases, the Governor’s proposal to lift the Charter school cap in the City, diminishing federal stimulus funding, increasing demand for a greater investment in 3K, and the growing concern for the needs of students in temporary housing. The DOE budget recognizes $1.9 billion in Fiscal 2023 and $1.7 billion in Fiscal 2024 in federal stimulus support for a number of programmatic expansions and restorations that have little to no funding in the outyears. In addition, the Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Plan does not account for $43.9 million in Council funded Education initiatives past the current fiscal year.

- Carter Cases. The United States Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) grants all children with disabilities the right to a Free Appropriate Public Education (FAPE). As a part of FAPE, students with disabilities are entitled to receive specialized instruction, related supports, or a combination of both. DOE must evaluate and develop an Individualized Education Program (IEP) for a student to receive special education instruction and/or related services. Any parent or guardian who believes that the DOE has not appropriately placed their child or has not offered adequate service and instruction to the child, as mandated by the child’s IEP, may enroll their child in a private school. Parents may seek, through a lawsuit, reimbursement of private school tuition costs from DOE for its failure to provide their children with a FAPE. If it is found that DOE was unable to provide a student with the instruction and services as outlined in the student’s IEP, DOE must reimburse the parents of the children for the cost of tuition at the corresponding private school.

As demonstrated in the chart below, “Carter Case Budget FY15-FY24” DOE’s Fiscal 2024 budget for Carter cases, is $445.7 million, 1.5 percent of DOE’s entire budget in Fiscal 2024. The Department’s Carter Case budget is $220 million less than the current year’s budget for these expenses and over $360 million less than the actual expenditures in Fiscal 2021.

In addition to chronic underfunding, the Department provides very limited information regarding Carter Cases. There is no publicly available information on the number of Carter Cases, the number of settlements or awards. The Department also does not explain why it is unable to provide appropriate placements for children with disabilities within the public school system. The PMMR shows an increase in the number of students enrolled in non-public school special education, coupled with a decline in students enrolled in public school special education programs. The PMMR should include more information on Carter Case spending, as well as include indicators on the types of cases disaggregated by disability and service needed. An additional challenge in accurately predicting spending on Carter cases is that spending in any given fiscal year includes payments for services in prior fiscal years, thus it is unclear what portion or amount of Carter Case spending in recent years has been for prior-year services.

- Charter Schools. The Governor’s Fiscal 2024 Executive Budget includes a proposal to lift the regional caps on Charter Schools, which would allow more charter schools to be issued in New York City. In addition, the proposal would allow reissuance of expired charters, known as ‘zombie’ charters. This proposal would allow up to 85 additional charters to be issued anywhere in the State, as well as the reissuance of 22 zombie charters in New York City. According to the latest Charter Lease report submitted by DOE, DOE is projected to pay $189 million in Fiscal 2023 in charter lease subsidies. After the State reimburses for 60 percent of the cost to the City, it leaves $76 million as the total City cost. This does not account for six other charters for which DOE pays directly to lease the buildings for the charters and for which there is no State reimbursement. If this proposal would take effect, the City could possibly see an increased expenditure need. The city’s traditional public schools have faced declining enrollment since the pandemic. The opening of additional charter schools could lead to even more loss of enrollment, threatening school budgets or prompting school mergers or closures.

- Early Childhood Education. Early in the 2022-2023 school year it became evident the City's process for processing payments to early childhood service providers was critically inadequate. At the time, many providers were close to shuttering their doors due to delayed payments from the DOE for services provided. The Council was able to negotiate for the creation of a Rapid Response team within DOE to help expedite the contracting processes in order to expedite payments. However, even with this additional focus, providers are still finding that their contract payments are critically delayed.

Additionally, the Administration's roll-back of the planned increase of the number of 3K seats in Fiscal 2024 from 55,000 to 61,000. The Administration reduced planned federal and city spending on the program by $284 million baselined to Fiscal 2026.

- Asylum Seekers. In an effort to provide services to the recently arrived asylum seekers, the DOE has provided supplemental funding to schools for the provision of additional curricular and instructional support for multilingual learners. This program, Project Open Arms, includes the provision of $2,000 per student to schools with six or more asylum seekers living in temporary. The Mayor's newest initiative, Promise NYC provides childcare assistance to low-income families with undocumented children.
- Federal Stimulus Roll 2022. $200 million was provided in the Preliminary Plan to hold schools harmless from mid-year declines in their budget as the result of enrollment declines. However, this money was not baselined for subsequent years. Next year, schools that are still reeling from the effects of the pandemic, may face great financial stress if there are no funds available to hold schools harmless again.
- Council Initiatives. The City Council continued to support citywide education programs by providing $173 million in discretionary funding to DOE's Fiscal 2023 budget. City Council Education Initiatives fund a range of programs geared to support students, educators, and school communities. In addition to the DOE, the Council funded Education Initiative through DYCD. Across the two agencies, Education Initiative funding totals $43 million in Fiscal 2023. The Council also provided $129 million in non-education discretionary awards to DOE's Fiscal 2023 budget. The table below presents a summary of Education Initiative discretionary funding added to DOE and DYCD's budgets in Fiscal 2023 as well as non-education related discretionary funding added to DOE's budget in Fiscal 2023. The Fiscal 2024 Budget does not account for Council-funded initiatives included in Fiscal 2023. For more information on Education Initiatives, see Appendix E.
