Fiscal 2024 Schedule C Introduction

The Fiscal 2024 budget, the second adopted by the Council under the leadership of Speaker Adrienne E. Adams, demonstrates the Council's commitment to protecting the essential services that underpin the health, safety, and success of New Yorkers. New York City faces a number of fiscal challenges on the horizon. However, the response does not merit sweeping cuts, but thoughtful decisions and investments to ensure we meet our challenges on solid footing. While this document reflects the values the Council fights to uphold for the City, the body takes this not as an endpoint but a marker as we push forward in ongoing budgetary, legislative, and oversight work to achieve in full the investments New Yorkers need.

The Path from Preliminary Budget to Adoption

Preliminary Budget

The Adams Administration released its Preliminary Financial Plan for Fiscal 2024 on January 12, 2023. In evaluating the Plan, the Council found many of the concerns raised in response to the Mayor's November Financial Plan went unaddressed. The Council found the Office of Management and Budget underestimated available resources, choosing not to recognize received tax revenues that exceeded projections for Fiscal Year 2023 and 2024. City agencies, in turn, were directed to reduce their budgeted vacant positions by half, despite Council's oversight hearings finding that too few workers at these agencies caused delays and backlogs in rendering essential services to New Yorkers. Indeed, the Preliminary Plan distributed these cuts unevenly, hitting the Department of Housing Preservation and Development, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, and others already experiencing acute vacancies curtailing their ability to meet our affordable housing and mental health crises.

Budget Response

On April 3, 2023, the Council submitted its response to the Fiscal 2024 Preliminary Budget which committed to the Council's vision that the health, safety and well-being of our city and our economy are bound to our support of essential human services. In furtherance of this, the Council identified $1.3 billion in investments across key service areas and restorations to proposed programmatic cuts in the Preliminary Plan, along with $1.4 billion to set aside for reserves to meet challenges from the asylum-seeker crisis and future economic uncertainties. These commitments were covered by $5.2 billion in additional tax revenues Council Finance Division economists forecasted the City would receive, in excess of Office of Management and Budget projections.

The Council directed its recommended investments in the following areas:

- Building stronger neighborhoods and opportunities;
- Ensuring delivery of essential City services;
- Improving community health and safety, and;
- Safeguarding education and learning opportunities.

The proposals in the Budget Response did not disregard the economic challenges facing the City, but rather fully recognized them. The Council's Budget Response balanced the need for fiscal responsibility with provision of the critical services New Yorkers require.

The Council also continued to press the Administration for increased transparency and accountability in their budgeting practices, including:

- Utilizing smaller units of appropriation (U/A's) that properly show programmatic expense spending; and
- Improving the Mayor's Management Report (MMR) by establishing clearer targets for all agency performance indicators and explaining variances when they occur with significant indicators.

Executive Budget

The Mayor's Executive Budget, released on April 26, 2023, reflected the additional Fiscal 2023 revenues which Council Finance had projected the City would receive. However, it preserved $4 billion worth of enacted and proposed Programs to Eliminate the Gap, or PEGs. In consequence, New York's libraries continued to face significant service cuts, New York's agencies would continue to be restricted in delivering essential services, and programs that would solve New Yorkers most pressing challenges would continue to go unsupported.

Adopted Budget

The Fiscal 2024 Adopted Budget is one of hard-fought wins for necessary services that benefit each New Yorker and every community. The Council secured over $440 million in funding restorations and targeted program enhancements to resolve standing inequities as well as put New Yorkers on the strongest footing to meet any economic challenges ahead. These funds were spread around a broad range of areas, some of which include:

Education: The Council secured $44.7 million for education programs at the Department of Education serving students, teachers and families, and added $37.7 million in Council funding across multiple program areas and initiatives. The budget agreement includes supporting converting almost 1,900 vacant, standard early childhood education seats into extended day seats, so they can be more effectively utilized by working families at $15 million. Additionally, the agreement supports swimming education in neighborhoods without access to public pools by funding 70 full- and part-time aquatic specialists, five recreation supervisors, 30 lifeguards, equipment, pool rentals, and access to DOE pools at $5.3 million.

Higher Education: The Council secured the largest restoration in history for CUNY: $65 million. This includes $32.4 million for restoration of programs, and $32.7 million in Council funding across multiple program areas and initiatives, of which $24 million are in the Council's Higher Education Initiative program area.

Housing and Homeless Services: The Council added $34.2 million for housing and homeless services in addition to $18.4 million in Council funding across multiple programs and initiatives.

Community Development: The Council secured $6.7 million for community development in addition to allocating $56.1 million in Council funding across multiple program areas and initiatives. The budget agreement supports helping connect New Yorkers to apprenticeships, improve the city's workforce development system, and establish a new community hiring program as authorized by recently passed state legislation at $2.7 million.

Human Services: The Council successfully negotiated $73.4 million for human services, including a Cost of Living Adjustment for human services workers across the City, and another $73.2 million for multiple Council programs and initiatives that benefit older adults, immigrants, food insecure.

Health Services: The Council added $25.9 million for health and mental health services alongside Council allocations of $49.2 million across a multitude of diverse initiatives. The Budget agreement supports continuing the investment in the Mental Health Continuum at $5 million.

Legal Services: The Council negotiated $37.9 million in legal services funding and is dedicating $15.9 million in additional funding through Council initiatives.

Parks: The Council secured $8.7 million in restorations for Parks and will commit approximately $11.2 million through Council initiatives and programs dedicated to parks and the environment.

Public Safety: The Council won $44.3 million for public safety measures, including enhanced support for supervised release, in addition to $49 million in various Council initiatives. The Budget Agreement also supports expanding neighborhood-based community navigators in Gun Violence Prevention Task Force districts at $1.9 million and investing in technology to conduct a community sentiment analysis that will reach residents in an equitable and inclusive manner to evaluate the effectiveness of gun violence prevention interventions and deliver inclusive community-informed solutions to gun violence at $850,000.

Youth and Children's Services: The Council won $49 million more for youth and children's services and will add another $16 million through the Council's multiple programs and initiatives serving the City's young people. This includes adding 400 slots to year-round youth workforce programs for out of school, out of work youth bringing total capacity to 1,739 slots funded at $6.6 million. Additionally, the budget agreement supports adding 5,000 slots to Work, Learn & Grow to provide Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP) participants with school year employment at $22.5 million. The agreement also supports 600 Promise NYC child care slots for undocumented children and their families at $16 million.

Sanitation: The Council successfully negotiated for $22 million in sanitation funding increases alongside $33.7 million through citywide Council initiatives. The budget agreement includes funding the Sanitation's highway cleaning program, which includes a focus on cleaning highways, medians, and road shoulders citywide at $9.6 million and increasing funding for the CleanNYC program, which cleans streets and sidewalks in targeted corridors at $3 million.

Culturals and Libraries: The Council successfully negotiated $62.5 million for cultural organizations and libraries alongside additional Council support of $46.2 million for these important programs.

Budget Reform and Transparency

The Council has continued its push to increase transparency and accountability in how the City's money is spent. The Fiscal 2024 Budget will secure over 60 Terms & Conditions and more than 10 new Units of Appropriation above and beyond the historic success in these fields from the Fiscal 2023 Budget.

Schedule C

Schedule C reinforces the Council's commitment to supporting our communities above and beyond the core services already provided by City government. Our spending plan complements the long-term stability, performance, and transparency measures the Council negotiated for as part of the larger budget.

Discretionary Funding

Each year, Council Members allocate discretionary funds to not-for-profit organizations and designate funding directly to City agencies in order to meet local needs and fill gaps in City services. While not a large part of the budget, this funding allows the City to take advantage of Council Members' localized knowledge to better target services to residents. Council rules adopted in 2014 raised the already high standard of transparency by which this funding operates in requiring that the method used to allocate funding among Members be publicly disclosed.

In this budget, each Member is allocated a base $400,000 in expense funding. Members are further allocated an additional $25,000; $50,000; $75,000; or $100,000 depending upon the level of poverty in the district.

Procedure and Requirements for Designation

Schedule C designates funding for community-based, not-for-profit and other public service organizations and to City agencies. For funds designated to organizations, the expenditure of any funds for each organization identified in Schedule C is contingent upon the satisfactory completion of 1) a detailed initial review process; and 2) all applicable City procurement requirements at the time of contract award. Even then, funding may be used only for appropriately reimbursable expenses, as determined by the administering agency.

For-profit entities may not receive discretionary funds, except when the primary not-for-profit funding recipient subcontracts with a for-profit entity as part of the delivery of services. Such proposed subcontracts, however, must be:

- only an ancillary part of the program to be funded - not the primary basis for the discretionary award; and
- pre-approved by the contracting agency and the City Council.

The New York City Council and the Mayor's Office of Contract Services (MOCS) have established the following review for all organizations listed in Schedule C:

- The Council reviews the public purpose, potential conflicts of interest, compliance with the New York State Charities Bureau, past performance, compliance with laws, rules, regulations, and policies, including not-for-profit status, any reported investigations, audits, inquiries, and other relevant information; and

- MOCS reviews organizations which were allocated more than $10,000 cumulatively in this fiscal year to confirm whether the organization has been prequalified, indicating organizational capability to establish a business relationship with the City of New York and deliver specific services.

While approved subcontractors of organizations that receive discretionary funding are not generally required to submit a prequalification application, they are subject to conflict-of-interest disclosure requirements, as are not-for-profit organizations. Prior to the designation of community-based not-for-profit and other public service organizations, members disclose on the record any potential conflicts of interest with organizations funded by other members.

For organizations requesting funding in excess of $10,000, MOCS conducts an additional review. MOCS reviews each such organization to determine whether the organization has the ability to establish or maintain a business relationship with the City and can demonstrate experience or capability to provide services to New Yorkers. MOCS prequalification is administered through PASSPort and renewed every three years. Each organization's compliance with annual filing requirements is reviewed each year to maintain prequalified status. In addition, the Department of Cultural Affairs (DCLA) administers the Cultural Development Fund to establish prequalification for organizations awarded cultural funds through DCLA.

Further restrictions to ensure the appropriate use of City funds will be incorporated through the City's procurement process.

All organizations receiving funding pursuant to an initiative will be subject to prequalification review and approval by the Mayor's Office of Contract Services.

Anti-Poverty

When allocating funding this year, the Council used a poverty indicator to provide a basis for which to fund programs. Poverty was estimated at the Council District level using 2016 American Community Survey data, specifically the number of individuals below the federal poverty level. Funding to the listed organizations will help to address income disparities throughout the five boroughs.
