NEW YORK CITY COUNCIL MEMBER
KEITH POWERS

Dear Neighbor:

Every day, I receive emails from constituents like you: How can I help from home? Where can I volunteer? How can I help those in need?

It's heartening that in these tough times, New Yorkers continue to persevere and help where they can – it is a trademark of our city.

Starting this week, my office is making calls to our neighbors to check in on their well-being. Will you sign up to join us?

SIGN UP TO VOLUNTEER

These calls are critical to ensure that our neighbors have the resources they need during this crisis – whether it's assistance with unemployment, access to meal delivery, help with paying the rent, and more.

Join us for a shift this week.

Please reach out to me at kpowers@council.nyc.gov or call 212-818-0580 with any needs and questions. I also encourage you to visit my COVID-19 webpage for further and ongoing information.

Stay safe and healthy,

Keith
